W. F. Romel has started to plow sod for corn on the farm of Jos. F. Brashares, and the two have been having quite a discussion on the merits of deep and shallow plowing. Joe is an advocate of deep plowing, in fact Joe would like to have some of the Trenton lime stone turned up as he has heard so much said of the value of limestone soil at Farmers institutes, while Will is a great believer in shallow plowing. He would not be averse to plowing part of the field deep enough to turn up some lime stone if it were not for the danger of running into the Laurel township gas and oil field.

Will claims for the merits of shallow plowing, that by cutting the grass roots into in the middle, that the cut worms and grub worms will have plenty to eat for a long time in devouring the lower roots and will not come to the surface to work on the young corn until it is too large to suit their taste, and so not damage the corn crop.

Will argues that by his method of plowing sod he has raised corn so large that you can cut it with an ax. As they are both plowing in the same field their discussion will continue indefinitely, and the plowing will go on (if it goes at all) as it did before.

What's New in Men's Clothes

SPRING STYLES show a decided change in design from anything produced in the last two seasons. Bright effects in fabrics are preferred and you will find a great many people, especially the smartest dressers, wearing clothes cut with patch pockets, 'sporty' trousers and rather large lapels, little attractive features that add greatly to their distinctiveness. ¶ In colors the tendency is strong toward Brown and Mode shades. Stripes are very much in evidence and strong in the running. ¶ Little oddities in sleeves, cuffs and the placing of buttons are sanctioned by good taste and much in favor with those who like novelty. ¶ Within the range of $8.50 to $20.00 you can obtain a degree of satisfaction in your clothes purchases.

Shoes

¶ The smart new things for Spring are now on display, with "Tans" in the lead. We also show an elegant variety in Dull and Patent Leathers. You may rest assured that if you get your SHOES, HATS, SUITS OR FURNISHINGS of us, you will have the very latest on the market.

Hungry Men.

The New York American lately had a picture of a long line of hungry men lined up at the "American wagon" waiting their turn to receive coffee and sandwiches, of which Mr. Hearst is the kindly donor. At twelve o'clock every night in the same city, a similar dole is extended to another line of hungry men by a city institution. In Seattle, in the state of Washington, it is stated that 12,000 men are out of work and hungry. Soup kitchens are being organized to keep body and soul together, of those who have hunted in vain for a job, and similar conditions prevail elsewhere. There is something wrong with the boasted Republican prosperity or these things would not be. Whether it is tariff and the trusts, or financial imbecility, the times are out of joint, and our Republican managers do not seem

REPUBLICAN PAPER SPEAKS OUT

The following from the Sandusky Register, Republican, is a correct summary of the work of the Republican state convention:

"The anti-Foraker, pro-Taft convention has passed into history and it will be left to the voters of Ohio to approve or disapprove its work, and that verdict will be rendered next November.

"A careful examination of the reports and analysis of the votes cast for various candidates will satisfy any unprejudiced man that the real machine in Ohio, so far as local interests are concerned, is composed of George B. Cox, of Cincinnati, Walter Brown of Toledo, and W. D. Guilbert, the present auditor or state. Those three were not worried about the endorsement or non-endorsement of William H. Taft. They did not care particularly who represented the state as delegates-at-large to the national convention. There were many inferior offices about which they were not anxious. They were looking for the real power in the management of state affairs and they got what they wanted. Walter Brown wanted Denman, his particular crony in Toledo, for attorney general. Brown is a lobbyist and a corporation lawyer. It would be of very great advantage to him to have the ear and active sympathy of the attorney general, and if his man is to know how to mend them. Reforms are surely necessary to abolish monopoly which has brought this sudden break down of prosperity and the question will naturally occur to the voters if it is not due time to dispense with the services of the Republican managers who have brought these appalling conditions or whose policies, at least, are in full power when the stringency came upon us.

George B. Cox is the owner of two banks in Cincinnati. The two banks have on deposit very nearly a half million dollars of Ohio state funds, deposited in them by the treasurer of state. George B. Cox wishes to keep up that interesting feature of his private business and he got what he wanted by nominating the candidate for treasurer of state.

"W. D. Guilbert, one of the most accomplished politicians we ever had, one of the shrewdest and one of the wisest, wished his particular friend and pupil nominated to succeed him and he got what he wanted."
